

When does the table of contents gets displayed?

Authoring Content

Each article can get automatically generated table of contents. If you would like to get one for all your articles, you can easily enable it by following the steps below.

1. Navigate to Customize -> Article from the Settings menu in your help center dashboard.
2. Adjust the value of the Show table of contents control as you wish between the 3 available options.

You can enable for all articles, only for the ones that have 3 or more top-level headings or completely disable by choosing the option Never.

Saved

Publish

Customization

Search...

General

Header

Homepage

Style

Article

Footer

Advanced

Contacts

Enabling the table of content

A top-level heading is considered only the h2 element. Here's how to create one:

This is a top level heading

Creating a top-level heading